Guide to the Clip Art Disks

Each Personal Newsletter Clip Art disk contains over 200 pictures in all types of categories. You can use Clip Art by following the instructions in the Personal Newsletter manual.

The art is arranged differently in the Apple and Commodore versions. The Apple pictures are stored in pages with folder names. The Commodore pictures are stored in three photo albums called "Personal," "Business," "Misc.," on disk volume 1 and "Personal2," Business2," and "Misc2" on volume 2.

Each page has a code at the bottom so you can find it easily. Here's a sample code:

Apple: SPORTS
Commodore: MISC2

This means you can find the pictures in a folder called "SPORTS" on the Apple disk, and in the Photo Album called MISC2 on the Commodore disk.

The Apple disk volume 2 also contains three new fonts. Theses fonts are on side B of the disk and can be recognized by the FNT extension to the file name. To load in the fonts, follow the instructions in the Personal Newsletter manual.
